Critical Reading

You scored higher than 55% of juniors.
Percentile

If you are a junior, your scores are compared to those of other juniors.

If you are a sophomore or younger student, your scores are compared to those of sophomores.
The Selection Index is the sum of your critical reading, mathematics and writing skills scores.

If it has an asterisk, you do not meet all of the eligibility requirements for the competition.
The Percentile compares your performance to that of other college-bound juniors.
The Entry Requirements section displays information you provided on your answer sheet.
Your Skills
See how you did on each skill. The same skills are tested on the SAT.

You can try hundreds of practice questions, organized by skill, online in My College QuickStart (www.collegeboard.org/quickstart).

Review and Practice
The SAT® gives you a chance to show how well you understand what you read. Like the PSAT/NMSQT®, the SAT has two types of multiple-choice questions in the critical reading section:

• Sentence completion questions test your vocabulary and your understanding of sentence structure.

• Passage-based reading questions test your comprehension of what is stated in or implied by the passage, not your prior knowledge of the topic.

Sentence Completions

My Personality

Your answers to the ORA Personality Profiler® indicate that your type is:

ISFZ: The Provider

Sound Like You?

- Are you responsible, caring, and cooperative?
- Do you learn best when studying alone?
- Are you diplomatic?
- Are you motivated by order and stability?

ISFZ stands for:

- Introverting
- Sensing
- Feeling
- Organizing

No test can tell you who you are, but reflecting on your results can help you know yourself better. Decide for yourself how well the ISFZ profile fits you. For feedback that’s more personalized—and to get additional information on what each letter in your type means—view your detailed results.

Personality Checklist

- Research the careers suggested for your type that interest you. Here’s how.
The Traditionalists

ISFZ The Provider
introverting, sensing, feeling, organizing

ISFZs are responsible, caring, reserved, and cooperative. As an ISFZ you have a modest style of helping others in orderly and practical ways. You believe it is important to follow rules and laws; similarly, you adhere to routine and prefer to see traditions preserved with little change. You are prone to worry about things beyond your control and may appear to be less confident because of your tendency to become stressed or agitated and not ask for help.

You like to be with a few close friends and family members and to offer personal support wherever and whenever needed. You are good at coordinating tasks and activities for everyone but may become overburdened by taking on other people’s problems. Likewise, you don’t ask for the recognition you would like to have. You are quietly loyal to family, friends, and groups and institutions that are important to you, and you hope others will be as loyal in return. You avoid interpersonal conflict at all costs.

As an ISFZ you are an organized and focused learner who is good at memorizing facts and details related to people. You reliably meet deadlines and obligations. You excel at coordinating and scheduling your own activities and keep yourself and your belongings neat and in good order. You prefer to work on projects and tasks that are useful in a practical way.

Your Strengths Include...

- A practical and dependable nature.

Civil engineering has been practiced for thousands of years. Civil engineers plan, design, build, and repair just about anything you can think of. That includes buildings, bridges, dams, tunnels, highways, stadiums, sewage treatment plants, power plants, airports, and even satellites. These days they're also in demand to repair the damage caused by natural disasters such as earthquakes, hurricanes, and floods. And our crumbling public structures, from bridges to tunnels, all need civil engineers to repair them.

Civil engineers specialize in different areas. Transportation engineers, for example, tackle problems like traffic jams and air travel safety. Water resources engineers work to control the flow of rivers and ensure clean drinking water.

As a civil engineering major, you'll take classes in several fields before focusing on one. But you'll find there's overlap in some coursework. For instance, you'll learn how to build structures that can stand up to earthquakes in both geotechnical and structural engineering. In a geotechnical engineering course, you'll focus on soil structure and foundation design. But when you study structural engineering, you'll be more concerned with designing...
